

Shape of a Woman

(lyrics & music by Hannah Alkire, Janjoral Publishing/BMI)

You left in the evening
The leaves were falling
I looked deep in your eyes
My world held its breath
The sky started crying
And slowly turned to ice.

Your hands they held me
Taught me and shaped me
Your laugh I hear still
Your eyes held my tears
Your arms my dreams
Footsteps I tried to fill

Chorus:
I spent so many years
Trying to chase after love
Years of empty moments
But the hole that I had
That I was trying to fill
Was the Shape of a Woman,
The shape of you.

You taught me to walk
Then pushed me to fly
You gave me all that you knew
But the flight you intended
We never took
I wanted to fly next to you

Chorus

Bridge:
Maybe the rest of your life
Was written silent
So I would know
That when life hurt too much
And I thought I was breaking
It was time to let go

And deep in the night
I sit by my window
The mask I wear fades away
I go to the mirror
I look deep in your eyes
I see that you're smile's here to stay

Chorus
Chorus

The shape of you
The shape of you
Shape of a Woman
The shape of...me.
